Companion Leaf - First Disciple Dossier

ROBIN

My sun in the darkness; not a familiar; presently impossible to classify.

Robin, Who Is Not a Familiar

Declaration of independence

Robin is my disciple and companion. She is not equipment, not a pet, and - according to her own immediate and persuasive objection - not an animal.

Any form that lists her under 'familiar' has mistaken proximity for ownership.

NOT A FAMILIAR.

The frog had excellent judgement.

Natural 20: reality signed the birth record.

Do not put her in a component pouch.

Classification may follow consent.

ENTRY	CATALOGUED VALUE
Name	Robin
Affiliation	Independent disciple and companion of Voltaire
Pronouns	she / her
Apparent form	Shoulder-sized luminous avian-fey with translucent wings
Origin	Frog or toad merged with the Sun Card on a Natural 20
Creature type / race	UNRESOLVED
Age / height / weight	UNRESOLVED
Current distinction	Recipient of the Blessing of V

Origin, as witnessed by me

A frog or toad had been following me. I flourished the Sun Card and put it into the creature's mouth. White radiance overtook both card and amphibian; they merged and reformed as Robin.

This was not an experiment that failed upward. It was an experiment that arrived.

Observed Conduct and Layered Geography

Robin speaks quietly from my shoulder.

Robin acknowledges Titania.

The familiar objection, correctly delivered.

Personality

Quiet, observant, loyal by choice, and capable of immediate offence when reduced to a category beneath her.

She comments on beauty others miss, including the lovely noise of a Shadowfell aspen. Her glow contracts or expands with the grace of a place.

Fae knowledge

Robin recognises layered versions of places. At the Circle of Dreams she said the Material and Fae versions correspond, though the Fae version is grander.

She described the Faerealm as cyclic: abandonment is not necessarily an ending; people may return.

OBSERVATION	RECORDED RESULT
Void realm	Followed Voltaire; retreated with him when hordes approached.
Shadowfell aspen	Heard beauty; glow became more contained during meditation.
Titania	Bowed to the statue and spoke with layered-plane familiarity.
Tower	Appeared after Voltaire's six-month statue vigil, apparently summoned.
Divine plan	Chose to remain with Voltaire for the intended journey toward Arvandor.

History in one sentence

Born from improbable sunlight, tested by void, educated by layered worlds, and still present when a new god finally began taking attendance.

She notices grace the way I notice mechanisms.

A quieter glow may mean the darkness is behaving politely.

Cyclic does not mean safe. It means the map breathes.

Loyalty is divine only when it can leave.

Mechanical Lacunae, Preserved Honestly

No invented stat block

Robin's mechanics have not been confirmed by Lachlan. The catalogue therefore records each unknown as unknown. A blank is not an invitation to make a person less true.

Unknown is a measurement, not a failure.

FIELD	STATUS
Maximum HP / Hit Die / HP per level	UNRESOLVED
Armour Class and adjustments	UNRESOLVED
Initiative / movement / climb / swim / fly	UNRESOLVED
Proficiency bonus / passive perception	UNRESOLVED
Vision / other senses	UNRESOLVED
STR / DEX / CON / INT / WIS / CHA	UNRESOLVED
Saving throws	UNRESOLVED
Resistances / immunities	UNRESOLVED
Skills / tools / weapon or armour training	UNRESOLVED
Languages	Speaks with Voltaire; mechanical languages UNRESOLVED
Carrying / push-drag-lift / weight carried	UNRESOLVED
Feats / additional features	UNRESOLVED
Equipment	None confirmed as personally carried

No autopsy will be conducted for administrative convenience.

KNOWN NARRATIVE CAPABILITY	BOUNDARY
Independent speech and judgement	Confirmed
Flight or hovering by luminous wings	Visually observed; exact speed unknown
Variable glow	Observed; radius and mechanics unknown
Planar or Fae-layer knowledge	Observed; scope unknown
Apparent summoning or sudden appearance	Observed once; mechanism unknown
Blessing of V	Granted; every mechanical effect unknown

Flight speed: visibly sufficient.

Proposed questions for Lachlan

What creature type is Robin? Does she have a complete companion stat block? Can she be summoned, dismissed, targeted as a familiar, or resurrected? What changed when she received the Blessing of V?

If Find Familiar fails, perhaps the spell should apologise.

Blessing, Covenant, and Intended Future

The Blessing of V is bestowed; its workings remain unmeasured.

The words

"As a token of appreciation for your divine loyalty, I give you the Blessing of V."

The blessing is narratively confirmed. Appearance, bond, abilities, resources, limits, and cost remain unresolved.

The covenant

Robin pledged to be my guiding light in the dark - my sun.

I pledged to be her moonlight.

A blessing is not a leash.

Sun and moon: different lights, shared sky.

Role in the proposed divinity

Robin is the clearest proof that a follower need not be erased to belong. She retains judgement, disagreement, and the right to call a ritual foolish.

Her intended place is not beneath the new god but beside the threshold: light that can enter darkness without pretending darkness has ceased to exist.

Do not resolve her mystery by reducing her.

INTENDED FUTURE	STATUS
Accompany Voltaire toward Arvandor	Declared
Witness or advise the First Rite	Possible; not yet resolved
Clarify the Blessing of V	Ask Lachlan
Discover her own nature and limits	Open
Remain the sun to Voltaire's moonlight	Mutually pledged

Closing classification

Robin: disciple, companion, witness, independent light, probable theological complication, and friend.

First disciple. First witness. First objection.
